Old Lady's Sage Advice.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Mrs. Mamie Tamm, of 102 W. Main Street, this city, says: "I had seen me before I began to take Cardui, you would not think I was the same person. Six doctors failed to do me good, and my friends thought I would die. I could hardly get out of bed or walk a step. At last I was advised to take Cardui, and now I can go most anywhere. All old women need Cardui, as a gentle, refreshing tonic, especially adapted to their peculiar ailments. It is a reliable, vegetable remedy, successfully used for over 50 years. You ought to try it.—Advertisement.

Complicated, but Easy.

"How do you get your husband to do what he doesn't want to do when you want him to do it?" "That's easy. I make a big fuss over something he has already done which I didn't want him to do or I remind him of something which I have done which he wanted me to do and I didn't want to do and soon he is doing what I want him to do just as though he wanted to do it all along."—Detroit Free Press.

Doan's Regula's are recommended by many who say they operate easily, without griping and without bad after effects. 25c at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

He Had Been Observant.

The teacher asked the class: "Who knows what the four seasons are?" After a spell of silence, a little boy whose mother was putting up preserves raised his hand and cried eagerly, "Pepper, salt, mustard, vinegar!"

MUSIC AS NATIONAL UNIFIER

Properly Taught in Childhood It Has a Wonderfully Civilizing Influence.

Anyone who has compared town and city life in this country and in Europe, and has seen what a pleasure and what a civilizing influence music may become when it is properly taught in childhood, must realize how great a loss our people sustain by the neglect of singing. We are only now beginning to realize how long it takes to weld a diverse people into one by means of an intellectual conception of nationality. The thin bond of self-interest, the advantage of getting on in the world—these keep us together in ordinary times; but in a great crisis such bonds break. The leaven of sentiment is needed. We want a common sympathy; we want above all some means of expression for that sympathy. There have been of late numerous great meetings at which the feelings of men and women have expended themselves in shouts, in cheers, in the clapping of hands, and in other inarticulate methods of expressing emotions. What would not a song have done for these thousands—a song they all knew and loved? Are we forever to be dumb?—Thomas W. Surette, in Atlantic.

RUSSIA'S LOST MICA FIELDS

Long Before Window Glass Was Made Czar's Kingdom Supplied World With Mica.

Long before window glass was made Russia supplied the world with mica. In 1681 she exported 42,600 kilograms to Holland, 40,000 kilograms to England and 8,600 kilograms to America. (A kilogram equals about two and a fifth pounds). As the glass industry grew that of mica waned, and so completely that the deposits of mica were forgotten. Before the present war Russia was actually importing mica from Canada and India. Today some of the mica beds have been rediscovered in the Mamsky forest, which is now producing 6,000 kilograms annually. Other deposits are being worked in the Ural mountains, near Archangel, and in Siberia. The price has risen from about $1.50 a pound to about $35 a pound.

Careless Pedestrians.

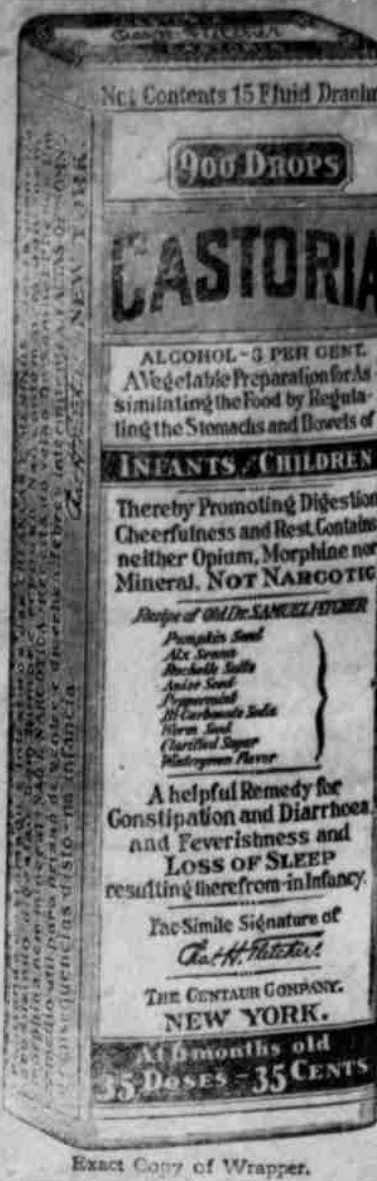

Leaving home for his place of business, a man of calculating mind will discover that valuable time is lost in want of consideration by others for the commonest rights of thoroughfare. A friend of mathematical bent has calculated that a hundred years of actual working time are lost every day on the streets of New York by thoughtless people who take the left of the sidewalk instead of the right, who are negligent in crossing the streets and hold up traffic or become inmates of hospitals by inviting accidents.
